

FAC launches redesigned web site

FAC launched this newly designed web site Tuesday, Jan. 30, 2007.

The site is:

- Designed with a brighter and cleaner look.
- Easier to navigate and built for growth.
- Streamlined for faster information retrieval.

This FAC News section is new to the web site. It will contain member news, press releases, along with grain and agronomy updates. FAC can now immediately publish information about the co-op, along with useful information from FAC professionals.

FAC's web site is an evolving process. More FAC members and customers will use the web for business every day, much the same as FAC employees. The goal is to develop www.faccooperative.com into an important business and informational tool.

Current FAC publications can be downloaded from this site. Publications will be available a week earlier on the web than in printed form, as publishing time is reduced.

Please check this link for periodic updates from FAC.

For more information: Please contact Amanda Leiting at (712) 689-2296